

Holger Rune.- February 25th

Yeah, you know, last year I was very close. So I've been close two times to make the final, but, you know, I'm definitely focusing on each match at a time. I'm not looking too much forward right now, just match by match. And trying to do my best, get back in the best form.

I have been practicing here for a week in Mexico, getting used to the heat and conditions. So just really focusing on step by step, playing my tennis and getting the rhythm.

I think that 99% of the players prefer the shorter tournaments. I think it's way better for the players.
